Principal Purpose of the Transaction

Strategic Rationale:

Mopani is one of the most important and strategic copper mining operations in Zambia, with a long history that is synonymous with the growth and development of the Copperbelt. ZCCM-IH took full control of Mopani from Glencore in 2021, with a plan to find a suitable SEP that could help to complete the expansion of the business and provide the necessary capital to grow the business.

The introduction of IRH as the SEP, through its wholly owned subsidiary, Delta, and subsequent investment of US$620 million in new equity enables the recapitalisation of Mopani's balance sheet, including the elimination of Glencore's existing debt burden. The SEP transaction, together with the formation of a strategic partnership between IRH and ZCCM-IH are significant milestones that will facilitate Mopani's growth objectives to achieve its copper cathode production target of 200,000 tonnes per annum over the next three years. Inevitably, Mopani's success drives value to not only ZCCM-IH shareholders, but the broader stakeholder universe across the Copperbelt, including employees, communities, and the Zambian economy. Further information detailing background to the SEP process, the rationale for the selection of IRH as SEP, and the benefits for ZCCM-IH can be found under Section 2.

Salient Features of the Transaction

Terms of the Transaction

The proposed Transaction involves, with effect from the Closing Date, the:

- subscription by Delta for 7,181,633 shares in Mopani, comprising 51% of the entire issued share capital of Mopani, at a total price of US$620 million being a price per share of US$ 86.33 of which US$ 85.33 per share is share premium. The US$620 million will be used primarily to complete Mopani's capital projects, and to stabilise the working capital position of the business and is structured as follows:
 - a) An amount of up to US$220 million will be paid by closing of the Transaction, of which up to US$130 million shall be advanced to Mopani prior to closing of the Transaction via an interim financing loan to assist with Mopani's immediate short term capital commitments. This interim financing loan is guaranteed via a bank guarantee provided by Zambia National Commercial Bank Plc. The US$130 million interim financing loan from Delta is structured as a short term debt instrument to allow Delta to provide funding to Mopani prior to closing of the Transaction, and will be converted into equity upon closing of the Transaction (comprising partial payment of the US$620 million equity subscription); and US$19 million of the US$220 million will be applied as partial repayment of the bridge facility agreement dated 20 January 2023, as amended and restated from time to time, and presently between ZCCM-IH as lender and Mopani as borrower (the "ZCCM Shareholder Loan") at closing of the Transaction; and
 - b) An amount of US$400 million of the share premium paid shall be deferred and paid in instalments when certain milestones under the PDP are met;
- payment at Closing by Delta of up to US$400 million of consideration to Glencore to acquire the current debt owed by Mopani to Glencore, which at Closing shall immediately be amended and restated by Delta, the arrangements for which are described in further detail as follows:
 - a) the facility agreements dated 25 July 2013 and 31 March 2000 as consolidated, amended and restated from time to time and both presently between Glencore and Mopani, shall be novated from Glencore to Delta and immediately thereafter amended, consolidated and restated (comprising the Investor Loan Agreement), to represent a principal sum of up to US$400 million;
 - b) the effect of this is that the gross debt owed by Mopani to Glencore consisting of the original US$1,500 million plus accrued interest that was put in place when ZCCM-IH took control of Mopani, and a further US$100 million of third-party letters of credit underwritten by Glencore, will be replaced by the Investor Loan Agreement loan owed by Mopani to Delta of up to US$400 million. As a result there will be an overall net reduction in Mopani debt of over US$1,200 million;
 - c) cathode and anode slimes offtake agreements dated 31 March 2021, as amended from time to time, and presently between Carlisa, Glencore and Mopani will be terminated;
 - d) a charge over all assets of Mopani shall be granted by Mopani in favour of Delta as security for Mopani's obligations under the Investor Loan Agreement; and

e) Glencore shall release the following security it holds over Mopani in accordance with the Finance Documents Release Deed:

- floating and fixed charges granted by Mopani in favour of Glencore dated 31 March 2021; and
- a share charge agreement between ZCCM-IH, Mopani and Glencore dated 31 March 2021.

In addition to the above, in support of the transfer and write down of the current Glencore debt to Delta, Mopani will enter into the Glencore Royalty Agreement, providing Glencore with upside participation in the profitability of Mopani in the event the copper price exceeds US$12,000 and an additional payment to Glencore of US$150 million in accordance with the terms of the Glencore Payment Covenant.

- Further capital of up to US$80 million may be made available to Mopani as shareholder loans, if required, based on the future working capital requirements of the business.

Other Significant Terms of the Transaction

Under the terms of the Investment Agreement:

- ZCCM-IH has agreed to indemnify, at Delta's election, either Delta for 51% of any Leakage (as defined under the Investment Agreement) or Mopani for 100% of any Leakage (as defined under the Investment Agreement) both from 31 December 2022 up to and inclusive of the Closing Date;
- ZCCM-IH's guarantee of the original US$1,500 million (plus interest) of debt owed by Mopani to Glencore, will be released;
- ZCCM-IH, Mopani and Delta have provided various warranties in relation to Mopani and the Transaction;
- ZCCM-IH agrees to various restrictions and notification rights in respect of its ability to influence the Mopani business in relation to its shareholding over Mopani prior to Closing; and
- Mopani shall issue and allot an additional special ordinary share with specific rights in the name of the GRZ.

- Mopani's board shall consist of 9 directors, including: (i) 5 appointed by Delta of which at least 1 must be resident in Zambia; (ii) 3 appointed by ZCCM-IH, who must all be Zambian residents; and (iii) 1 appointed by the GRZ.

2. RATIONALE FOR THE TRANSACTION

2.1. BACKGROUND

In June 2022, ZCCM-IH appointed Rothschild & Co to undertake a strategic review in relation to assessing various options available to Mopani to ensure its long-term financial sustainability (the “Strategic Review”).

The Strategic Review was focused on assessing Mopani’s balance sheet given its high level of indebtedness and the liquidity requirements necessary to operate, and further develop its mining assets. The outcome of the Strategic Review identified two key initiatives to ensure the sustainability and continued development of Mopani; the first initiative focused on immediate liquidity requirements of Mopani, and the second initiative focused on securing a long-term sustainable funding solution for Mopani by introducing a new SEP to invest in Mopani. Together, these two initiatives underpin the restructuring of Mopani’s balance sheet and allow for the implementation of a turnaround plan.

As part of Mopani’s balance sheet restructuring process, collaborative engagements between ZCCM-IH, Glencore and the GRZ to ensure Mopani had sufficient working capital to conclude the SEP transaction, led to a US$200 million facility being provided by ZCCM-IH and Glencore to fund the continued operations at Mopani.

In parallel, Rothschild & Co commenced the SEP process, engaging a wide range of strategic and financial investors from around the world with an interest in Mopani and the Copperbelt. Potential SEPs were engaged, and assessed based on:

- i. their financial wherewithal to fund Mopani’s capital projects and provide additional liquidity;
- ii. demonstrating a strong mining track record with the ability to implement a turnaround strategy for Mopani;
- iii. displaying a history of environmental, social and governance best practice, particularly in relation to the social ramifications for employment and localisation on the Copperbelt; and
- iv. the ability to execute the Transaction in a timely manner.

Following a detailed evaluation process that included thorough engagements with a shortlist of highly credible SEPs, ZCCM-IH selected IRH as the preferred SEP.

2.2. RATIONALE FOR THE TRANSACTION

2.2.1. Strategic

IHC is one of the largest and fastest growing companies in the Middle East and Africa, and through IRH, it has a strategy to invest in critical minerals in the region, across the entire mining supply chain. The selection of IRH as the preferred SEP was carefully considered against key criteria aligned with the strategic objectives of ZCCM-IH, and the transaction, notably i) the financial strength of the SEP, ii) the mining track record of the SEP, and iii) the ESG credentials of the SEP, amongst others. Most importantly, the Board believes that IRH’s partnership with ZCCM-IH and Mopani represents an important strategic step towards the revitalisation of the Zambian economy, the Zambian mining industry, and the continued development of the Copperbelt by enabling the long-term sustainability of Mopani.

IRH’s investment into Mopani recapitalises its balance sheet, secures direct and indirect jobs, and provides both funding and technical experience to complete Mopani’s Project Development Plan, all of which underpin Mopani’s strategy to achieve its target of becoming a 200,000 ton per annum producer of copper cathodes in the next 3 years. Beyond this ZCCM-IH and IRH will work with Mopani and the GRZ to identify other opportunities in the Zambian mining industry that will attract further investment into the region.

Financial strength of IHC

IRH’s parent organisation IHC is the largest company listed in Abu Dhabi, and as at 22 January 2024, IHC had a market capitalisation of US$240 billion with sufficient cash reserves and access to credit facilities to fund the Transaction. Securing this finance at closing is critical to the development of Mopani and also enables a restructuring of the Glencore debt which further improves the economic viability of Mopani.

Strong mining track record across the mining value chain

IRH has a technical team of over 120 professionals, with a variety of experience working with major global mining companies, including in geology, engineering, metallurgy, and project management. The IRH team will provide support and expertise to the existing Mopani management team to ensure a successful turnaround of the Mopani operations. IRH will also leverage the expertise of its various subsidiaries and joint venture companies as required, to support the development of ancillary opportunities across the entire mining value chain.

Environmental, social and governance (ESG)

IRH’s investment into Mopani has a strict focus across multiple ESG principles. In collaboration with the GRZ, IRH have agreed that no redundancies will be undertaken at Mopani as part of the Transaction, other than performance-related employee issues in the ordinary course of business. IRH has also committed to work with ZCCM-IH and Mopani to optimise local supply chains in order to benefit the Zambian economy and have ensured that, inter alia, Mopani will continue to be managed by the existing local management team. Mopani’s existing corporate social responsibility initiatives will continue to receive funding support, including its investments into local schools, hospitals, and sports clubs.

2.2.2. Shareholder Value

The success and long-term sustainability of Mopani’s operations is strategically imperative in creating tangible value for ZCCM-IH shareholders. Through the Transaction, Mopani is well positioned to achieve its copper production objectives by completing critical PDP initiatives, ultimately leading to improved financial performance and potential future dividends for ZCCM-IH shareholders.

- ZCCM-INVESTMENTS HOLDINGS PLC V KONKOLA COPPER MINES PLC (LUSAKA HIGH COURT)

On 21st May 2019, ZCCM Investments Holdings plc (ZCCM-IH) filed a petition to wind up Konkola Copper Mines plc (KCM) pursuant to Section 57 (g) of the Corporate Insolvency Act, 2017 on the ground that it was just and equitable to do so.

The matter is currently stayed pending the hearing of the arbitral proceedings commenced by Vedanta. Resources Limited. ZCCM -IH and Vedanta Resources Limited are in ex curia settlement discussions with the view of resetting the relationship by and between them with respect to KCM. The intention is to withdraw the winding up petition as part of the larger discussions which involved the execution of an Implementation agreement and a new shareholders agreement on 6th November 2023.

- VEDANTA RESOURCES HOLDINGS LIMITED AND VEDANTA RESOURCES LIMITED V ZCCM INVESTMENTS HOLDINGS PLC

On 3rd July 2019 ZCCM-IH was served by Vedanta Resources Holdings Limited and Vedanta Resources Limited with a notice of motion for an urgent application issued out of the High Court of South Africa in Johannesburg. Dear Sirs,

INDEPENDENT PRACTITIONERS REVIEW REPORT ON THE THREE YEAR AND SIX MONTH HISTORICAL FINANCIAL INFORMATION OF MOPANI COPPER MINES PLC

Report on the Financial Statements

We have reviewed the accompanying financial statements of Mopani Copper Mines Plc (“the Company”), which comprise the statement of financial position as at 31 December 2020, 31 December 2021, 31 December 2022 and 30 June 2023, and the statement of comprehensive income, statement of changes in equity and statement of cash flows for the period(s) then ended, and a summary of significant accounting policies and other explanatory information.

Management’s Responsibility for the Financial Statements

Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of these financial statements in accordance with the International Financial Reporting Standards and the Companies Act of Zambia and for such internal control as management determines is necessary to enable the preparation of financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

Practitioner’s Responsibility

Our responsibility is to express a conclusion on the accompanying financial statements. We conducted our review in accordance with International Standard on Review Engagements (ISRE) 2400 (Revised), Engagements to Review Historical Financial Statements. ISRE 2400 (Revised) requires us to conclude whether anything has come to our attention that causes us to believe that the financial statements, taken as a whole, are not prepared in all material respects in accordance with the applicable financial reporting framework. This Standard also requires us to comply with relevant ethical requirements.

A review of financial statements in accordance with ISRE 2400 (Revised) is a limited assurance engagement. The practitioner performs procedures, primarily consisting of making inquiries of management and others within the entity, as appropriate, and applying analytical procedures, and evaluates the evidence obtained.

The procedures performed in a review are substantially less than those performed in an audit conducted in accordance with International Standards on Auditing.

Accordingly, we do not express an audit opinion on these financial statements.

Emphasis of matter - Unaudited financial statements for the six-month period ended 30 June 2023

Without modifying our opinion, we draw to your attention to the fact that we carried out a review of the unaudited six-month period ended 30 June 2023 for Mopani Copper Mines Plc as required by clause 8.7 of the listing rules. Our review was conducted in accordance with International Standard on Review Engagements 2400 (Revised) and the results are presented in an abridged format in the statement of comprehensive and other income, statement of financial position and statement of cash flows. No detailed notes have been presented in relation to the six-month period ended 30 June 2023 as most of the financial reporting close procedures are carried out at the year end. The notes in this report relate only to the audited financial periods ended 31 December 2020, 31 December 2021 and 31 December 2022 for Mopani Copper Mines Plc.

Conclusion

Based on our review, nothing has come to our attention that causes us to believe that these financial statements and management accounts do not present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of Mopani Copper Mines Plc as at 31 December 2020, 31 December 2021, 31 December 2022 and 30 June 2023 and of its financial performance and cash flows for the years then ended, in accordance with the International Financial Reporting Standards and the Companies Act of Zambia.

Report on Other Legal and Regulatory Requirements

The Companies Act of Zambia requires that in carrying out a review, we consider whether or not a company has kept the accounting records and registers as required by this Act. We confirm that in our opinion the accounting records, other records and registers required by the Companies Act of Zambia have been properly kept by the company.

Consent

We have given and not withdrawn our consent to the inclusion of this report in the Circular in the form and context in which it appears.

MOPANI COPPER MINES PLC

ACCOUNTING POLICIES

1. GENERAL INFORMATION

Mopani Copper Mines PLC (“Mopani” or the “Company”) is engaged in mining, production and marketing of copper in the Kitwe and Mufulira areas of the Copperbelt province of Zambia. These activities are conducted principally in Zambia.

The Company is incorporated in Zambia under the Companies Act, 2017 of Zambia as a public limited company, and is domiciled in Zambia. The registered Company address is:

Central Offices,
Central Street,
Nkana West,
Kitwe.

2. ADOPTION OF NEW AND REVISED STANDARDS

2.1 New and amended Standards that are effective for the current year

The Company has applied the following standards and amendments for the first time for their annual reporting period commencing 1 January 2022:

Annual improvements cycle 2018 -2020

IFRS 1, ‘First time adoption of IFRS’ has been amended for a subsidiary that becomes a first-time adopter after its parent. The subsidiary may elect to measure cumulative translation differences for foreign operations using the amounts reported by the parent at the date of the parent’s transition to IFRS.

IFRS 9, ‘Financial Instruments’ has been amended to include only those costs or fees paid between the borrower and the lender in the calculation of “the 10% test” for derecognition of a financial liability. Fees paid to third parties are excluded from this calculation.

Amendments to IAS 37 Onerous Contracts—Cost of Fulfilling a Contract - The amendment clarifies which costs an entity includes in assessing whether a contract will be loss-making. This assessment is made by considering unavoidable costs, which are the lower of the net cost of exiting the contract and the costs to fulfil the contract. The amendment clarifies the meaning of ‘costs to fulfil a contract’. Under the amendment, costs to fulfil a contract include incremental costs and the allocation of other costs that relate directly to fulfilling the contract.

IFRS 16, ‘Leases’ COVID-19-Related Rent Concessions Amendment -The IASB has provided lessees (but not lessors) with relief in the form of an optional exemption from assessing whether a rent concession related to COVID-19 is a lease modification, provided that the concession meets certain conditions. On 31 March 2021, the IASB published an additional amendment to extend the date of the practical expedient from 30 June 2021 to 30 June 2022. Lessees can elect to account for such rent concessions in the same way as they would if they were not lease modifications. In many cases, this will result in accounting for the concession as variable lease payments in the period(s) in which the event or condition that triggers the reduced payment occurs. The March 2021 amendment will only be available if an entity chose to apply the May 2020 optional practical expedient.

Amendments to IAS 16 Property, Plant and Equipment: Proceeds before Intended Use

The amendment to IAS 16 prohibits an entity from deducting from the cost of an item of PPE any proceeds received from selling items produced while the entity is preparing the asset for its intended use (for example, the proceeds from selling samples produced when testing a machine to see if it is functioning properly). The proceeds from selling such items, together with the costs of producing them, are recognised in profit or loss.

MOPANI COPPER MINES PLC ACCOUNTING POLICIES

Amendment to IFRS 3, 'Business combinations', Asset or liability in a business combination clarity. - The Board has updated IFRS 3, 'Business combinations', to refer to the 2018 Conceptual Framework for Financial Reporting, in order to determine what constitutes an asset or a liability in a business combination. In addition, the Board added a new exception in IFRS 3 for liabilities and contingent liabilities. The exception specifies that, for some types of liabilities and contingent liabilities, an entity applying IFRS 3 should instead refer to IAS 37, 'Provisions, Contingent Liabilities and Contingent Assets', or IFRIC 21, 'Levies', rather than the 2018 Conceptual Framework.

The Board has also clarified that the acquirer should not recognise contingent assets, as defined in IAS 37, at the acquisition date.

The Company is yet to perform the assessment of the impact of the above changes and amendments. The above standards are expected not to have a material impact on the Company.

At the date of authorisation of these financial statements, the Company has not applied the following new and revised IFRS Standards that have been issued but are not yet effective.

Certain new accounting standards and interpretations have been published that are not mandatory for 31 December 2022 reporting periods and have not been early adopted by the Company. These standards are not expected to have a material impact on the entity in the current or future reporting periods and on foreseeable future transactions.

Amendments to IAS 17	Insurance Contracts
Amendments to IFRS 3	Reference to the Conceptual Framework
Amendments to IAS 12	Definition of Accounting Estimates
Amendments to IAS 8	Deferred Tax related to Assets and Liabilities arising from a single transaction.

The Directors do not expect that the adoption of the Standards listed above will have a material impact on the financial statements of the Company in future periods.

IFRS 17, 'Insurance contracts'

The IASB issued IFRS 17, 'Insurance contracts', and thereby started a new epoch of accounting for insurers. Whereas the current standard, IFRS 4, allows insurers to use their local GAAP, IFRS 17 defines clear and consistent rules that will significantly increase the comparability of financial statements. For insurers, the transition to IFRS 17 will have an impact on financial statements and on key performance indicators.

Under IFRS 17, the general model requires entities to measure an insurance contract at initial recognition at the total of the fulfilment cash flows (comprising the estimated future cash flows, an adjustment to reflect the time value of money and an explicit risk adjustment for non-financial risk) and the contractual service margin. The fulfilment cash flows are remeasured on a current basis each reporting period. Whereas the current standard, IFRS 4, allows insurers to use their local GAAP, IFRS 17 defines clear and consistent rules that will significantly increase the comparability of financial statements. For insurers, the transition to IFRS 17 will have an impact on financial statements and on key performance indicators.

Under IFRS 17, the general model requires entities to measure an insurance contract at initial recognition at the total of the fulfilment cash flows (comprising the estimated future cash flows, an adjustment to reflect the time value of money and an explicit risk adjustment for non-financial risk) and the contractual service margin. The fulfilment cash flows are remeasured on a current basis each reporting period. The unearned profit (contractual service margin) is recognised over the coverage period.

Aside from this general model, the standard provides, as a simplification, the premium allocation approach. This simplified approach is applicable for certain types of contract, including those with a coverage period of one year or less.

MOPANI COPPER MINES PLC

ACCOUNTING POLICIES

For insurance contracts with direct participation features, the variable fee approach applies. The variable fee approach is a variation on the general model. When applying the variable fee approach, the entity's share of the fair value changes of the underlying items is included in the contractual service margin. As a consequence, the fair value changes are not recognised in profit or loss in the period in which they occur but over the remaining life of the contract.

IFRS 17, Insurance contracts Amendments

In response to some of the concerns and challenges raised, the Board developed targeted amendments and a number of proposed clarifications intended to ease implementation of IFRS 17, simplify some requirements of the standard and ease transition. The amendments relate to eight areas of IFRS 17, and they are not intended to change the fundamental principles of the standard or unduly disrupt implementation already underway.

Narrow scope amendments to IAS 1 'Presentation of Financial Statements', Practice statement 2 and IAS 8 'Accounting Policies, Changes in Accounting Estimates and Errors'

The amendments aim to improve accounting policy disclosures and to help users of the financial statements to distinguish changes in accounting policies from changes in accounting estimates.

The amendments change the requirements in IAS 1 with regard to disclosure of accounting policies. The amendments replace all instances of the term 'significant accounting policies' with 'material accounting policy information'. Accounting policy information is material if, when considered together with other information included in an entity's financial statements, it can reasonably be expected to influence decisions that the primary users of general-purpose financial statements make on the basis of those financial statements.

The supporting paragraphs in IAS 1 are also amended to clarify that accounting policy information that relates to immaterial transactions, other events or conditions is immaterial and need not be disclosed. Accounting policy information may be material because of the nature of the related transactions, other events or conditions, even if the amounts are immaterial. However, not all accounting policy information relating to material transactions, other events or conditions is itself material.

Amendments to IAS 1 - Presentation of Financial Statements and IFRS Practice Statement 2 Making Materiality Judgements - Disclosure of Accounting Policies (continued)

The amendments to IAS 1 are effective for annual periods beginning on or after 1 January 2023, with earlier application permitted and are applied prospectively. The amendments to IFRS Practice Statement 2 do not contain an effective date or transition requirements.

Amendments to IAS 8 Accounting Policies, Changes in Accounting Estimates and Errors—Definition of Accounting Estimates

The amendments replace the definition of a change in accounting estimates with a definition of accounting estimates. Under the new definition, accounting estimates are "monetary amounts in financial statements that are subject to measurement uncertainty".

The definition of a change in accounting estimates was deleted. However, the Board retained the concept of changes in accounting estimates in the Standard with the following clarifications:

- a) A change in accounting estimate that results from new information or new developments is not the correction of an error.
- b) The effects of a change in an input or a measurement technique used to develop an accounting estimate are changes in accounting estimates if they do not result from the correction of prior period errors.

The amendments are effective for annual periods beginning on or after 1 January 2023 to changes in accounting policies and changes in accounting estimates that occur on or after the beginning of that period, with earlier application permitted.

ACCOUNTING POLICIES

Amendments to IAS 12, Income Taxes: Deferred Tax related to Assets and Liabilities arising from a Single Transaction

The amendment clarifies that liabilities are classified as either current or non-current, depending on the rights that exist at the end of the reporting period. A number of requirements are required to be met in conjunction with this amendment.

3. SIGNIIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

3.1 Statement of compliance

The annual financial statements of Mopani Copper Mines Plc have been prepared in accordance with International Financial Reporting Standards (IFRS) and interpretations issued by the IFRS Interpretations Committee (IFRS IC) applicable to companies reporting under IFRS and with the requirements of the Companies Act, 2017 of Zambia. The annual financial statements comply with IFRS as issued by the International Accounting Standards Board (IASB).

Basis of preparation

The financial statements have been prepared on the historical cost basis except for certain financial instruments that are measured at fair values, at the end of each reporting period as explained in the accounting policies below.

Historical cost is generally based on the fair value of the consideration given in exchange for goods and services.

Fair value is the price that would be received to sell an asset or paid to transfer a liability in an orderly transaction between market participants at the measurement date, regardless of whether that price is directly observable or estimated using another valuation technique. In estimating the fair value of an asset or a liability, the Company takes into account the characteristics of the asset or liability if market participants would take those characteristics into account when pricing the asset or liability at the measurement date. Fair value for measurement and/or disclosure purposes in these financial statements is determined on such a basis, except for share-based payment transactions that are within the scope of IFRS 2, leasing transactions that are within the scope of IFRS 16, and measurements that have some similarities to fair value but are not fair value, such as net realisable value in IAS 2 or value in use in IAS 36.

In addition, for financial reporting purposes, fair value measurements are categorised into Level 1, 2 or 3 based on the degree to which the inputs to the fair value measurements are observable and the significance of the inputs to the fair value measurement in its entirety, which are described as follows:

- Level 1 inputs are quoted prices (unadjusted) in active markets for identical assets or liabilities that the entity can access at the measurement date;
- Level 2 inputs are inputs, other than quoted prices included within Level 1, that are observable for the asset or liability, either directly or indirectly; and
- Level 3 inputs are unobservable inputs for the asset or liability.

3.2.1 Going concern

The financial statements have been prepared on a going concern basis, which assumes the continuity of normal business activity and the realization of assets and the settlement of liabilities in the normal course of business. During the year ended 31 December 2022, the Company made a loss after tax of US$593 million (2021: Restated profit US$3,904 million). As at 31 December 2022 the Company had accumulated loss of US$780 million (2021: Restated Retained losses of US$ 200 million) whilst the Company's total liabilities exceeded its total assets by US$725 million (2021: Restated Net liabilities of US$144 million). As at 31 December 2022, the Company's current liabilities exceeded its current assets by US$ 82 million.

MOPANI COPPER MINES PLC

ACCOUNTING POLICIES

At the time of acquisition by ZCCM-IH, Mopani owed Glencore more than US$4.3 billion in shareholder loans. This debt was unsustainable for Mopani and was negotiated down to US$1.5 billion. The facility is secured by a charge on Mopani shares, assets and is guaranteed by ZCCM-IH. At the date of this report, there had been no default on the loan and related agreements and Management has continued engaging Glencore to ensure compliance with all the covenants. There is no non-compliance of covenants forecasted for the next financial year. In the worst case scenario of failure, Management will engage Glencore with the option of restructuring the debt.

Production and financial projections have been done as part of evaluation of going concern assumptions through Life of mine modelling.

The Life of Mine of the Company has a positive Net Present Value of US$1,9 billion and to realize this, a total of US$350 million is required to complete Expansion Projects over three years. The shareholder has engaged consultants, Rothschild & Company, to support the process of raising capital and so far, the work is ongoing. The consultant is also involved in the process of finding an equity partner for recapitalization of the Company.

The key assumptions are:

- Average selling price of copper at US$8,039 and copper sales tonnages of 105,585 tonnes for the year 2023.
- Costs incurred in local currency (Zambian Kwacha) have been converted to US$ at a rate of ZMW18 in 2023.
- Forecast medium- and long-term copper prices of above US$8,000 per tonne of copper reflect that the Company will return to profitable trading operations.
- There are no known plans to close down operations in the short and/or medium term as the Company is considered to operate in a strategic industry of the Country. Mopani's capital is currently being restructured with the engagement of Rothschild & Company appointed by ZCCM-IH. The Equity Partner will be expected to inject a total of US$600 million fresh capital while efforts to renegotiate the quantum of the transaction debt are progressing.

The Company is confident that it would be able to source the required funding as indicated above. This funding will address the risk of any material uncertainty regarding significant doubts on the Company's ability to continue as a going concern.

The Directors consider the going concern basis for preparation of the financial statements to be appropriate based on forecast cash flows. The copper price and foreign exchange assumptions used in the forecast have taken into account management's best estimate of current market conditions.

The principal accounting policies are set out below:

3.3 Revenue recognition

The Company recognized revenue from the following major sources;

- Sale of copper cathodes
- Sale of copper concentrates
- Sale of sulphuric acid
- sale of anode slimes
- Revenue is measured based on the consideration to which the company expects to be entitled in a contract with a customer and excludes amounts collected on behalf of third parties. The Company recognized revenue when it transfers control of a product or service to a customer.

Revenue is measured based on the consideration to which the company expects to be entitled in a contract with a customer and excludes amounts collected on behalf of third parties. The Company recognized revenue when it transfers control of a product or service to a customer.

Export sales - Copper cathodes, slimes and sulphuric acid.

MOPANI COPPER MINES PLC

ACCOUNTING POLICIES

The Company sells copper cathodes, slimes and sulphuric acid to both related and third party customers. For export sales, revenue is recognized when control of the goods has transferred, being when the goods have crossed the Zambian border. A receivable is recognized by the Company when the goods have crossed the border as this represents the point in time at which the right to consideration becomes unconditional.

Local sales - Copper cathodes, Concentrates and Sulphuric acid.

For sales of Copper cathodes, Concentrates and Sulphuric acid locally, revenue is recognized when control of goods has transferred, being at the point the customer takes goods from the Company's premises.

3.4 Foreign currencies

Items included in the annual financial statements are measured in United States Dollars, being the currency of the primary economic environment in which the Company operates ("the functional currency"). The annual financial statements are presented in US Dollars ("US$") which is the Company's presentation and functional currency.

In preparing the financial statements of the Company, transactions in currencies other than the entity's functional currency (other currencies) are recorded at the rates of exchange prevailing at the dates of the transactions. At each reporting date, monetary items denominated in other currencies are retranslated at the rates prevailing at the reporting date. Non-monetary items carried at fair value that are denominated in other currencies are retranslated at the rates prevailing at the date when the fair value was determined. Non-monetary items that are measured in terms of historic cost in a foreign currency are not retranslated. Exchange differences are recognised in the profit or loss in the period in which they arise except for:

- exchange differences on other currency borrowings relating to assets under construction for future productive use, which are included in the cost of those assets when they are regarded as an adjustment to interest costs on those other currency borrowings; and
- exchange differences on transactions entered into in order to hedge certain other currency risks.

3.5 Taxation

Income tax expense represents the sum of the tax currently payable and deferred tax.

Current Income tax

The tax currently payable is based on taxable profit for the year. Taxable profit differs from accounting profit as reported in the statement of comprehensive income because it excludes items of income or expense that are taxable or deductible in other years and it further excludes items that are never taxable or deductible. The Company's liability for current tax is calculated using tax rates that have been enacted or substantively enacted by the end of the reporting period.

Deferred Income tax

Deferred tax is recognized on temporary differences between the carrying amounts of assets and liabilities in the financial statements and the corresponding tax bases used in the computation of taxable profit. Deferred tax liabilities are generally recognized for all taxable temporary differences. Deferred tax assets are generally recognized for all deductible temporary differences to the extent that it is probable that taxable profits will be available against which those deductible temporary differences can be recognized. Such deferred tax assets and liabilities are not recognized if the temporary difference arises from goodwill or from the initial recognition (other than in a business combination) of other assets and liabilities in a transaction that affects neither the taxable profit nor the accounting profit.

The carrying amount of deferred tax assets is reviewed at the end of each reporting period and reduced to the extent that it is no longer probable that sufficient taxable profits will be available to allow all or part of the asset to be recovered.

MOPANI COPPER MINES PLC

ACCOUNTING POLICIES

Deferred tax liabilities and assets are measured at the tax rates that are expected to apply in the period in which the liability is settled or the asset recognized, based on tax rates (and tax laws) that have been enacted or substantively enacted by the end of the reporting period.

Deferred tax assets and liabilities are offset when there is a legally enforceable right to set off current tax assets against current tax liabilities levied by the same taxation authority and the Company intends to settle its current tax assets and liabilities on a net basis.

Current and deferred tax for the year

Current and deferred tax are recognized in profit or loss, except when they relate to items that are recognized in other comprehensive income or directly in equity, in which case, the current and deferred tax are also recognized in other comprehensive income or directly in equity respectively. Where current tax or deferred tax arises from the initial accounting for a business combination, the tax effect is included in the accounting for the business combination.

3.6 Financial instruments

The Company's financial instruments consist of cash and cash equivalents, restricted cash, deposits held by related parties, trade receivables, trade payables and derivative instruments. Financial assets are classified as measured at amortised cost, fair value through other comprehensive income ("FVOCI") and fair value through profit and loss ("FVTPL"). Financial liabilities are measured at amortised cost or FVTPL.

Financial assets and financial liabilities are recognised in the Company's statement of financial position when the Company becomes a party to the contractual provisions of the instruments.

Cash and cash equivalents comprise cash on hand, deposits held at call with financial institutions, other short-term, highly liquid investments with original maturities of three months or less that are readily convertible to known amounts of cash and which are subject to an insignificant risk of changes in value.

Restricted cash comprises cash deposits used to guarantee letters of credit issued by the Company or held for escrow purposes.

Cash and cash equivalents and restricted cash are measured at amortised cost.

Financial assets and financial liabilities are initially measured at fair value. Transaction costs that are directly attributable to the acquisition or issue of financial assets and financial liabilities (other than financial assets and financial liabilities at fair value through profit or loss) are added to or deducted from the fair value of the financial assets or financial liabilities, as appropriate, on initial recognition. Transaction costs directly attributable to the acquisition of financial assets or financial liabilities at fair value through profit or loss are recognised immediately in profit or loss.

Financial assets

All regular way purchases or sales of financial assets are recognised and derecognised on a trade date basis.

Regular way purchases or sales are purchases or sales of financial assets that require delivery of assets within the time frame established by regulation or convention in the market place.

All recognised financial assets are measured subsequently in their entirety at amortised cost.

Classification of financial assets

Debt instruments that meet the following conditions are measured subsequently at amortised cost:

- the financial asset is held within a business model whose objective is to hold financial assets in order to collect contractual cash flows; and

ACCOUNTING POLICIES

- the contractual terms of the financial asset give rise on specified dates to cash flows that are solely payments of principal and interest on the principal amount outstanding.

Debt instruments that meet the following conditions are measured subsequently at fair value through other comprehensive income (FVTOCI):

- the financial asset is held within a business model whose objective is achieved by both collecting contractual cash flows and selling the financial assets; and
- the contractual terms of the financial asset give rise on specified dates to cash flows that are solely payments of principal and interest on the principal amount outstanding.

By default, all other financial assets are measured subsequently at fair value through profit or loss (FVTPL).

Despite the foregoing, the Company may make the following irrevocable election/designation at initial recognition of a financial asset:

- the Company may irrevocably elect to present subsequent changes in fair value of an equity investment in other comprehensive income if certain criteria are met; and
- the Company may irrevocably designate a debt investment that meets the amortised cost or FVTOCI criteria as measured at FVTPL if doing so eliminates or significantly reduces an accounting mismatch.

(i) Amortised cost and effective interest method

The effective interest method is a method of calculating the amortised cost of a debt instrument and of allocating interest income over the relevant period.

For financial assets other than purchased or originated credit-impaired financial assets (i.e. assets that are credit-impaired on initial recognition), the effective interest rate is the rate that exactly discounts estimated future cash receipts (including all fees and points paid or received that form an integral part of the effective interest rate, transaction costs and other premiums or discounts) excluding expected credit losses, through the expected life of the debt instrument, or, where appropriate, a shorter period, to the gross carrying amount of the debt instrument on initial recognition. For purchased or originated credit-impaired financial assets, a credit-adjusted effective interest rate is calculated by discounting the estimated future cash flows, including expected credit losses, to the amortised cost of the debt instrument on initial recognition.

The amortised cost of a financial asset is the amount at which the financial asset is measured at initial recognition minus the principal repayments, plus the cumulative amortisation using the effective interest method of any difference between that initial amount and the maturity amount, adjusted for any loss allowance. The gross carrying amount of a financial asset is the amortised cost of a financial asset before adjusting for any loss allowance.

Interest income is recognised using the effective interest method for debt instruments measured subsequently at amortised cost and at FVTOCI. For financial assets other than purchased or originated credit-impaired financial assets, interest income is calculated by applying the effective interest rate to the gross carrying amount of a financial asset, except for financial assets that have subsequently become credit-impaired (see below). For financial assets that have subsequently become credit-impaired, interest income is recognised by applying the effective interest rate to the amortised cost of the financial asset. If, in subsequent reporting periods, the credit risk on the credit-impaired financial instrument improves so that the financial asset is no longer credit-impaired, interest income is recognised by applying the effective interest rate to the gross carrying amount of the financial asset.

(i) Amortised cost and effective interest method (cont'd)

For purchased or originated credit-impaired financial assets, the Company recognises interest income by applying the credit-adjusted effective interest rate to the amortised cost of the financial asset from initial recognition.

ACCOUNTING POLICIES

The calculation does not revert to the gross basis even if the credit risk of the financial asset subsequently improves so that the financial asset is no longer credit-impaired. Interest income is recognised in profit or loss.

(ii) Foreign exchange gains and losses

The carrying amount of financial assets that are denominated in a foreign currency is determined in that foreign currency and translated at the spot rate at the end of each reporting period. Specifically:

- for financial assets measured at amortised cost that are not part of a designated hedging relationship, exchange differences are recognised in profit or loss;
- for debt instruments measured at FVTOCI that are not part of a designated hedging relationship, exchange differences on the amortised cost of the debt instrument are recognised in profit or loss. Other exchange differences are recognised in other comprehensive income in the investment's revaluation reserve;
- for financial assets measured at FVTPL that are not part of a designated hedging relationship, exchange differences are recognised in profit or loss; and
- for equity instruments measured at FVTOCI, exchange differences are recognised in other comprehensive income in the investments revaluation reserve.

(iii) Impairment of financial assets

The Company recognises a loss allowance for expected credit losses (ECL) on investments in debt instruments that are measured at amortised cost or at FVTOCI, lease receivables, trade receivables and contract assets, as well as on financial guarantee contracts. The amount of expected credit losses is updated at each reporting date to reflect changes in credit risk since initial recognition of the respective financial instrument.

The Company always recognises lifetime ECL for trade receivables, contract assets and lease receivables. The expected credit losses on these financial assets are estimated using a provision matrix based on the Company's historical credit loss experience, adjusted for factors that are specific to the debtors, general economic conditions and an assessment of both the current as well as the forecast direction of conditions at the reporting date, including time value of money where appropriate.

For all other financial instruments, the Company recognises lifetime ECL when there has been a significant increase in credit risk since initial recognition. However, if the credit risk on the financial instrument has not increased significantly since initial recognition, the Company measures the loss allowance for that financial instrument at an amount equal to 12-month ECL.

Lifetime ECL represents the expected credit losses that will result from all possible default events over the expected life of a financial instrument. In contrast, 12-month ECL represents the portion of lifetime ECL that is expected to result from default events on a financial instrument that are possible within 12 months after the reporting date.

(iv) Significant increase in credit risk

In assessing whether the credit risk on a financial instrument has increased significantly since initial recognition, the company compares the risk of a default occurring on the financial instrument at the reporting date with the risk of a default occurring on the financial instrument at the date of initial recognition. In making this assessment, the company considers both quantitative and qualitative information that is reasonable and supportable, including historical experience and forward-looking information that is available without undue cost or effort. Forward-looking information considered includes the future prospects of the industries in which the company's debtors operate, obtained from economic expert reports, financial analysts, governmental bodies, relevant think-tanks and other similar organisations, as well as consideration of various external sources of actual and forecast economic information that relate to the company's core operations.

MOPANI COPPER MINES PLC

ACCOUNTING POLICIES

In particular, the following information is taken into account when assessing whether credit risk has increased significantly since initial recognition:

- an actual or expected significant deterioration in the financial instrument's external (if available) or internal credit rating;
- significant deterioration in external market indicators of credit risk for a particular financial instrument, e.g. a significant increase in the credit spread, the credit default swap prices for the debtor, or the length of time or the extent to which the fair value of a financial asset has been less than its amortised cost;
- existing or forecast adverse changes in business, financial or economic conditions that are expected to cause a significant decrease in the debtor's ability to meet its debt obligations;
- an actual or expected significant deterioration in the operating results of the debtor;
- significant increases in credit risk on other financial instruments of the same debtor;
- an actual or expected significant adverse change in the regulatory, economic, or technological environment of the debtor that results in a significant decrease in the debtor's ability to meet its debt obligation.

Irrespective of the outcome of the above assessment, the Company presumes that the credit risk on a financial asset has increased significantly since initial recognition when contractual payments are more than 30 days past due, unless the Company has reasonable and supportable information that demonstrates otherwise.

Despite the foregoing, the Company assumes that the credit risk on a financial instrument has not increased significantly since initial recognition if the financial instrument is determined to have low credit risk at the reporting date. A financial instrument is determined to have low credit risk if:

- (1) The financial instrument has a low risk of default,
- (2) The debtor has a strong capacity to meet its contractual cash flow obligations in the near term, and
- (3) Adverse changes in economic and business conditions in the longer term may, but will not necessarily, reduce the ability of the borrower to fulfil its contractual cash flow obligations.

(v) Definition of default

The Company considers the following as constituting an event of default for internal credit risk management purposes as historical experience indicates that financial assets that meet either of the following criteria are generally not recoverable:

- when there is a breach of financial covenants by the debtor; or
- information developed internally or obtained from external sources indicates that the debtor is unlikely to pay its creditors, including the Company, in full (without taking into account any collateral held by the Company)

Irrespective of the above analysis, the Company considers that default has occurred when a financial asset is more than 90 days past due unless the Company has reasonable and supportable information to demonstrate that a more lagging default criterion is more appropriate.

(vi) Credit-impaired financial assets

A financial asset is credit-impaired when one or more events that have a detrimental impact on the estimated future cash flows of that financial asset have occurred. Evidence that a financial asset is credit-impaired includes observable data about the following events:

- (a) significant financial difficulty of the issuer or the borrower;
- (b) a breach of contract, such as a default or past due event;
- (c) the lender(s) of the borrower, for economic or contractual reasons relating to the borrower's financial difficulty, having granted to the borrower a concession(s) that the lender(s) would not otherwise consider;
- (d) it is becoming probable that the borrower will enter bankruptcy or other financial reorganisation; or
- (e) the disappearance of an active market for that financial asset because of financial difficulties.

MOPANI COPPER MINES PLC

ACCOUNTING POLICIES

(vii) Write-off policy

The Company writes off a financial asset when there is information indicating that the debtor is in severe financial difficulty and there is no realistic prospect of recovery, e.g. when the debtor has been placed under liquidation or has entered into bankruptcy proceedings, or in the case of trade receivables, when the trade receivables has crossed the law of limitation period past due, whichever occurs sooner. Financial assets written off may still be subject to enforcement activities under the Company's recovery procedures, taking into account legal advice where appropriate. Any recoveries made are recognised in profit or loss.

(viii) Measurement and recognition of expected credit losses

The measurement of expected credit losses is a function of the probability of default, loss given default (i.e. the magnitude of the loss if there is a default) and the exposure at default. The assessment of the probability of default and loss given default is based on historical data adjusted by forward-looking information as described above.

As for the exposure at default, for financial assets, this is represented by the assets' gross carrying amount at the reporting date; for financial guarantee contracts, the exposure includes the amount drawn down as at the reporting date, together with any additional amounts expected to be drawn down in the future by default date determined based on historical trend, the Company's understanding of the specific future financing needs of the debtors, and other relevant forward-looking information.

For financial assets, the expected credit loss is estimated as the difference between all contractual cash flows that are due to the Company in accordance with the contract and all the cash flows that the Company expects to receive, discounted at the original effective interest rate.

The Company recognises an impairment gain or loss in profit or loss for all financial instruments with a corresponding adjustment to their carrying amount through a loss allowance account.

(ix) Derecognition of financial assets

The Company derecognises a financial asset only when the contractual rights to the cash flows from the asset expire, or when it transfers the financial asset and substantially all the risks and rewards of ownership of the asset to another entity. If the Company neither transfers nor retains substantially all the risks and rewards of ownership and continues to control the transferred asset, the Company recognises its retained interest in the asset and an associated liability for amounts it may have to pay. If the Company retains substantially all the risks and rewards of ownership of a transferred financial asset, the Company continues to recognise the financial asset and also recognises a collateralised borrowing for the proceeds received. recognition of a financial asset measured at amortised cost, the difference between the asset's carrying amount and the sum of the consideration received and receivable is recognised in profit or loss. In addition, on derecognition of an investment in a debt instrument classified as at FVTOCI, the cumulative gain or loss previously accumulated in the investments revaluation reserve is reclassified to profit or loss. In contrast, on derecognition of an investment in equity instrument which the Company has elected on initial recognition to measure at FVTOCI, the cumulative gain or loss previously accumulated in the investments revaluation reserve is not reclassified to profit or loss, but is transferred to retained earnings.

Financial liabilities and equity

(i) Classification as debt or equity

Debt and equity instruments are classified as either financial liabilities or as equity in accordance with the substance of the contractual arrangements and the definitions of a financial liability and an equity instrument.

(ii) Equity instruments

MOPANI COPPER MINES PLC

ACCOUNTING POLICIES

An equity instrument is any contract that evidences a residual interest in the assets of an entity after deducting all of its liabilities. Equity instruments issued by the Company are recognised at the proceeds received, net of direct issue costs.

(iii) Repurchase of the Company's own equity instruments is recognised and deducted directly in equity. No gain or loss is recognised in profit or loss on the purchase, sale, issue or cancellation of the Company's own equity instruments.

Financial liabilities

All financial liabilities are measured subsequently at amortised cost using the effective interest method or at fair value through profit and loss (FVTPL).

Foreign exchange gains and losses

For financial liabilities that are denominated in a foreign currency and are measured at amortised cost at the end of each reporting period, the foreign exchange gains and losses are determined based on the amortised cost of the instruments. These foreign exchange gains and losses are recognised in the 'other gains and losses' line item in profit or loss.

The fair value of financial liabilities denominated in a foreign currency is determined in that foreign currency and translated at the spot rate at the end of the reporting period.

Derecognition of financial liabilities

The Company derecognises financial liabilities when, and only when, the Company's obligations are discharged, cancelled or have expired. The difference between the carrying amount of the financial liability derecognised and the consideration paid and payable is recognised in profit or loss.

3.7 Property, plant and equipment

Property, plant and equipment are stated at cost less accumulated depreciation and impairment losses.

The Company provides for depreciation on the following basis:

Leasehold land and buildings	Life of mine (LOM)
Plant and machinery	10 years-15 years or Life of mine
Motor Vehicles	20% straight line
Fixtures and fittings	20% straight line
Office equipment	20% straight line
Information technology equipment	33 1/3% straight line
Mineral properties	Units-of-production method
Mine development	Units-of-production method

Expenditure on assets under construction is initially shown as capital work in progress and is transferred to the relevant class of property, plant and equipment when commissioned.

Renewal of mine licence is done once it falls due and hence the use of LOM.

Capital work in progress is not depreciated and is carried at cost less impairment.

Asset Impairment

Assets are tested for impairment on a regular basis to prevent overstatement on the balance sheet. Assets that are mostly tested for impairment includes accounts receivable, as well as long-term assets and fixed assets.

When an impaired asset's value is written down on the statement of financial position, there is also a loss recorded on the profit or loss.

MOPANI COPPER MINES PLC

ACCOUNTING POLICIES

At each reporting date, the Company reviews the carrying amounts of its assets to determine whether there is any indication that those assets have suffered an impairment loss. If any such indication exists, the recoverable amount of the asset is estimated in order to determine the extent of the impairment loss, if any.

The recoverable amount is the higher of fair value less costs to sell and value in use. In assessing value in use all assets are considered to be a single cash generating unit. The estimated future cash flows are discounted to their present value using a pre-tax discount rate that reflects current market assessments of the time value of money and the risks specific to the asset for which the estimates of future cash flows have not been adjusted.

If the recoverable amount of an asset is estimated to be less than its carrying amount, the carrying amount of the asset is reduced to its recoverable amount. An impairment loss is recognized immediately in the statement of comprehensive income, unless the relevant asset is carried at a revalued amount, in which case the impairment loss is treated as a revaluation decrease.

Where an impairment loss subsequently reverses, the carrying amount of the asset is increased to the revised estimate of its recoverable amount, but only so that the increased carrying amount does not exceed the carrying amount that would have been determined had no impairment loss been recognized for the asset in prior years. A reversal of an impairment loss is recognized immediately in the profit or loss, unless the relevant asset is carried at a revalued amount, in which case the reversal of the impairment loss is treated as a revaluation increase.

Provisions are recognized when the Company has a present legal or constructive obligation as a result of past events, where it is probable that an outflow of resources will be required to settle the obligation, and a reliable estimate of the obligation can be made.

The amount recognized as a provision is the best estimate of the consideration required to settle the present obligation at the end of the reporting period, taking into account the risks and uncertainties surrounding the obligation. When a provision is measured using the cash flows estimated to settle the present obligation, its carrying amount is the present value of those cash flows (where the effect of the time value of money is material).

When some or all of the economic benefits required to settle a provision are expected to be recovered from a third party, a receivable is recognized as an asset if it is virtually certain that reimbursement will be received and the amount of the receivable can be measured reliably.

3.8 Mine development costs

Exploration and associated costs relating to non-specific projects or properties are expensed in the period in which they are incurred. Significant property acquisition costs and development costs relating to specific properties for which economically recoverable reserves are believed to exist are deferred until the project to which they relate is sold, abandoned or placed into production. No costs are deferred on a property believed to be impaired in value.

Mine development and property acquisition costs, including costs incurred during production to expand ore reserves within existing mine operations, are deferred and amortised over the life of the mines.

Reviews are undertaken regularly to evaluate the carrying values of operating mines and development properties. If it is determined that the net recoverable amount is significantly lower than the carrying value, and the impairment in value is likely to be permanent, a write-down to the net recoverable amount is made by a charge to profit or loss.

3.9 Employee pensions, retirement and termination benefits

Employee benefits

MOPANI COPPER MINES PLC ACCOUNTING POLICIES

Short-term obligations

- (i) Liabilities for wages and salaries, including non-monetary benefits and accumulating leave that are expected to be settled wholly within 12 months after the end of the period in which the employees render the related service are recognized in respect of employees' services up to the end of the reporting period and are measured at the amounts expected to be paid when the liabilities are settled. The liabilities are presented as current employee benefit obligations in the statement of financial position.
- (ii) Retirement benefit obligations

Employees are registered with the statutory retirement benefits pension scheme. A retirement benefits scheme is a pension plan under which the company pays fixed contributions into a separate entity (a fund) and will have no legal or constructive obligations to pay further contributions if the fund does not hold sufficient assets to pay all employees' benefits relating to employee service in the current and prior periods.

For the retirement benefits scheme, the Company makes mandatory contributions to the National Pension Scheme Authority. These contributions constitute net periodic costs and are charged to the profit and loss as part of employee benefits expense in the year to which they relate. The Company has no further obligation once the contributions have been paid.

- (iii) Other entitlements

The estimated monetary liability for employees' accrued annual leave entitlement at the statement of financial position date is recognized as an expense accrual.

Certain employees are entitled to a gratuity when they complete a two-year contract with the Company. An accrual is made for the estimated liability for such entitlement as a result of services rendered by these employees up to the statement of financial position date. The Company recognizes a liability and an expense for bonuses, based on a formula that takes into consideration the profit attributable to the Company's shareholders after certain adjustments.

The Company recognizes a provision where contractually obliged or where there is past practice that has created a constructive obligation.

The Company makes contributions alongside employees to an externally managed retirement benefits contribution pension scheme. The Company also contributes alongside qualifying employees to the National Pension Scheme Authority which is a statutory retirement benefits contribution pension scheme.

The company also pays short term employee benefits to qualifying employees.

In addition to the above contributions employees are entitled to retirement benefits under a collective agreement or the terms of their conditions of service. A liability is raised for past service on the basis of present conditions and earnings. All contributions made by the Company are dealt with in the profit or loss for the period in which they arise.

The Company also contributes to Saturnia Pension Fund, a retirement benefits contribution pension scheme.

For retirement benefit plans, the cost of providing benefits is determined using the projected unit credit method, with actuarial valuations being carried out at the end of each annual reporting period. Remeasurement, comprising actuarial gains and losses, the effect of the changes to the asset ceiling (if applicable) and the return on plan assets (excluding interest), is reflected immediately in the statement of financial position with a charge or credit recognized in other comprehensive income in the period in which they occur. Past service cost is recognized in profit or loss in the period of a plan amendment. Net interest is calculated by applying the discount rate at the beginning of the period to the net defined liability or asset. Retirement benefit costs are recognized as follows:

MOPANI COPPER MINES PLC

ACCOUNTING POLICIES

- service cost (including current service cost, past service cost, as well as gains and losses on curtailments and settlements);
- net interest expense or income; and
- remeasurement.

The retirement benefit obligation recognized in the company's financial position represents the actual deficit or surplus in the Company's retirement benefit plans. Any surplus resulting from this calculation is limited to the present value of any economic benefits available in the form of refunds from the plans or reductions in future contributions to the plans.

A liability for a termination benefit is recognized at the earlier of when the company can no longer withdraw the offer of the termination benefit and when the company recognizes any related restructuring costs.

3.10 Inventories

Finished and Process metal inventories are valued at the lower of cost and estimated net realization value. Cost represents average production cost and includes overhead, administration and selling expenses. Net realization value is determined after the deduction of anticipated realization expenses.

Consumable stores inventories are valued at cost. A provision is made for excess, slow moving and obsolete items. Cost is determined on a continuous average cost basis and includes all direct costs incurred up to delivery at mine.

3.11 Environmental restoration

Provision is made for costs associated with the restoration and rehabilitation of mining sites as soon as the obligation to incur such costs arises. Such restoration and closure costs are typical of the extractive industry and are normally accrued to reflect the Company's obligations at that time.

The costs are estimated on the basis of mine closure plans and the estimated costs of dismantling and removing these facilities and the costs of restoration are recognized when incurred reflecting the Company's obligations at that time. A corresponding provision is created on the liability side. The recognized asset is charged to the profit or loss over the life of the asset through depreciation over the life of the operation and the provision is reviewed annually.

Management estimates are based on local legislation and the work of an independent expert. The actual costs and cash outflows may differ from estimates because of changes in laws and regulations, changes in prices, analysis of site conditions and changes in restoration technology.

Changes in the estimated timing of rehabilitation or changes to the estimated future costs are dealt with prospectively by recognizing an adjustment to the rehabilitation liability and a corresponding adjustment to the asset to which it relates, if the initial estimate was originally recognized as part of an asset measured in accordance with IAS 16.

Over time, the discounted liability is increased for the change in present value based on the discount rates that reflect current market assessments and the risks specific to the liability. The periodic unwinding of the discount is recognized in the statement of profit or loss and other comprehensive income as part of finance costs.

For closed sites, changes to estimated costs are recognized immediately in the statement of profit or loss and other comprehensive income.

The Company is required to make contributions to the Government for future rehabilitation work relating to its production activities. The contributions are based on an environmental assessment that is performed by environmental auditors.

3.12 Share capital

Ordinary shares are classified as 'share capital' in equity. Any premium received over and above the par value of the shares is classified as 'share premium' in equity.

3.13 Dividends

Dividends on ordinary shares are charged to equity in the period in which they are declared. Proposed dividends after end of the year are only disclosed as part of related dividend notes.

3.14 Cash and cash equivalents and restricted cash

Cash and cash equivalents comprise cash on hand, deposits held at call with financial institutions, other short-term, highly liquid investments with original maturities of three months or less that are readily convertible to known amounts of cash and which are subject to an insignificant risk of changes in value.

Restricted cash comprises cash deposits used to guarantee letters of credit issued by the Company or held for escrow purposes.

Cash and cash equivalents and restricted cash are measured at amortised cost.

3.15 Trade and other Receivables

Except for provisionally priced receivables which are recognized at fair value through profit or loss, all trade and other receivables are recognized initially at their invoice value which represents fair value and do not bear interest and are subsequently carried at amortised cost, less provision for impairment. A provision for impairment of receivables is established when there is objective evidence that the Company will not be able to collect all the amounts due according to the original terms of receivables. The amount of the provision is the difference between the carrying amount and the present value of expected cash flows. The amount of the provision is recognized in profit or loss.

Prepayments are initially recognized at cost of consideration paid once it meets the criteria for a prepaid expense and are subsequently carried at cost less amortised amounts.

3.16 Trade payables and other Liabilities

These amounts represent liabilities for goods and services provided to the company prior to the end of financial year which are unpaid. The amounts are unsecured and are usually paid within 30 days of recognition. Trade and other payables are presented as current liabilities unless payment is not due within 12 months after the reporting period.

The amounts are recognized initially at their fair value and subsequently measured at amortised cost using the effective interest method.

4. CRITICAL ACCOUNTING ESTIMATES AND JUDGEMENTS

4.1 Critical judgements in applying accounting policies

During the preparation of annual financial statements in terms of IFRS, the Company's management is required to make certain judgments, estimates and assumptions that may materially affect reported amounts of assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and reported amounts of revenue and expenses during the reported year and related disclosures. The estimates and judgments are based on historical experience, current and expected future economic condition and factors. Actual results may differ from these estimates.

The estimates and underlying assumptions are reviewed on an ongoing basis. Revisions to accounting estimates are recognized in the period in which the estimate is revised if the revision affects only that period or in the period of the revision and future periods if the revision affects both current and future periods.

4.2 Key sources of estimation uncertainty

The following are the key assumptions concerning the future, and other key sources of estimation uncertainty at the end of the reporting period, that have a significant risk of causing material adjustment to the carrying amounts of assets and liabilities within the next financial year.

4.2.1 Income taxes

The tax charged to the profit or loss is subject to agreement with the Zambia Revenue Authority ("ZRA"). When the final tax outcome upon agreement of assessments differs from the amounts initially recorded, such differences are adjusted in subsequent periods. Where the actual assessment differs from management's estimates, the Company would need to increase or decrease the tax charge to the profit or loss by the resulting difference.

In addition, deferred tax assets are recognized for deductible temporary differences and unused tax losses only if it is probable that future taxable profits are available to recognize those temporary differences and losses, and tax losses continue to be available having regard to the nature and timing of their origination and compliance with tax legislation. Assumptions are also made about the application of income tax legislation. These assumptions are subject to risk and uncertainty and there is a possibility that changes in circumstances will alter expectation which may impact the amount of deferred tax assets and deferred tax liabilities recorded on the statement of financial position and the amount of deferred losses and timing differences not yet recognized. In these circumstances the carrying amount of deferred tax assets and liabilities may change, resulting in an impact on the earnings of the Company.

Deferred tax

MOPANI COPPER MINES PLC

ACCOUNTING POLICIES

There was no deferred tax asset balance at the end of the year (2021:US$976 million). However, due to uncertainty of having sufficient taxable income to recognized tax losses before they expire, all previously recognized assets have been reversed and none have been carried forward. Current year assessed losses have not been recognized.

Uncertain tax positions

As part of the share purchase Agreement (SPA) between ZCCM-IH and Glencore International AG, the Company's loans/debt with Glencore were amended and restated as at 31 March 2021 to US$ 1.5 billion. This loan modification was in fulfilment of the Agreement for the Government of the Republic of Zambia through ZCCM-IH to buy Glencore's 90% shareholding in return for US$1.00 consideration and US$ 1.5 billion debt. This transaction thereby gave rise to a loan modification gain that has been recorded in the income statement in the prior year. The tax treatment for this gain is uncertain on the basis that the Zambian Income Tax does not have an express provision that directly deal with the matter. There is equally no judicial precedence from the Tax Appeals Tribunal or a higher court where concrete guidance can be found. The Directors have consulted widely in this transaction related gain and have not accrued for the estimated US$590 million tax that would arise in the unlikely event that the transaction was interpreted as taxable.

4.2.2 Fixed asset impairment review

Impairment tests on property, plant and equipment are only done if there is an impairment indicator. Future cash flows are based on management's estimate of future market conditions.

These cash flows are then discounted and compared to the current carrying value, and, if lower, the assets are impaired to the present value of the cash flows. Impairment tests are based on information available at the time of testing. These conditions may change after year-end.

4.2.3 Exploration and evaluation expenditure

The application of the Company's accounting policy for exploration and evaluation expenditure requires judgement to determine whether future economic benefits are likely, from either future exploitation or sale, or whether activities have not reached a stage that permits a reasonable assessment of the existence of reserves.

4.2.4 Estimation and assumptions relating to the timing of VAT receivables

In addition to the recoverability of VAT receivables being a key judgement, calculating the present value of these recoveries also includes assumptions regarding the timing of recoveries. Changes to the timings could materially impact the amounts charged to finance costs. The carrying amount of the Company's VAT receivables is disclosed in note 19.

4.2.5 Estimation and assumptions relating to timing of Expansion Capital availability

In assessing the going concern status of the company, management relied on the Life of Mine which has been reviewed by SRK Mining Consultants and in which a Competent Person's Report was issued. The qualification in the CPR was that the Life of Mine is viable subject to availability of Expansion Capital flows. Assertions by the Shareholder indicate the timing of these cashflows is before the end of 2023.

4.2.6 Impairment of Financial Assets

Expected credit losses ("ECL") are recognized for financial assets held at amortised cost. This is based on credit losses that result from default events that are possible within a 12-month period, except for trade receivables, whose ECLs are on a simplified lifetime basis, and any financial assets for which there has been a significant increase in credit risk since initial recognition, for which ECLs over the lifetime are recognized. To measure the expected credit losses, trade receivables and contract assets have been grouped based on shared credit risk characteristics and the days past due. The company has therefore concluded that the expected loss rates for trade receivables are a reasonable approximation of the loss rates for the contract assets.

The expected loss rates are based on the payment profiles of sales over a period of 36 months before 31 December 2022 or 1 January 2022 respectively and the corresponding historical credit losses experienced within this period. The historical loss rates are adjusted to reflect current and forward-looking information on macroeconomic factors affecting the ability of the customers to settle the receivables.

4.2.7 Other

Other critical judgements and sources of estimation uncertainty include the following:

- (a) Legal claim contingency (see details under note 13(a) to the financial statements;
- (b) Transfer pricing case (see details on note 13 (b) to the financial statements
- (c) Estimates of mineral resources and ore reserves. Such estimates relate to the category for the resources (measured, indicated or inferred), the quantum and the grade.

5. RISK MANAGEMENT OBJECTIVES AND POLICIES

In the normal course of its operations the Company is exposed to commodity price, currency, interest rate, liquidity and credit risk. In order to manage these risks, the Company has developed a comprehensive risk management process to facilitate control and monitoring of these risks and has since appointed a competent Risk Manager.

5.1 Interest rate risk

Fluctuations in interest rates impact on the value of short-term investment and financing activities, giving rise to interest rate risk. The Company's interest rate risk arises from long-term borrowings. Borrowings issued at variable rates expose the Company to cash flow interest rate risk. Borrowings at fixed rates expose the Company to fair value interest rate risk. During 2021 and 2022, the Company's borrowings at variable rates were denominated in US Dollar.

In the normal course of business, the Company receives cash proceeds from its operations and is required to fund working capital and capital expenditure requirements. The cash is managed to ensure that surplus funds are invested to maximise returns whilst ensuring that capital is safeguarded to the maximum extent by only investing with top financial institutions.

5.2 Fair value of assets and liabilities

Fair value is the amount at which assets and liabilities can be exchanged in a current transaction between willing parties, other than in a forced sale or liquidation, and is best evidenced by a quoted market price, where one exists. The estimated fair values of assets and liabilities have been determined by the Company using available market information and appropriate valuation methodologies. However, judgment is necessarily required to interpret market data to estimate fair values. Accordingly, the estimates are not necessarily indicative of the amounts the Company could realise in a current market exchange. The carrying amounts of the assets and liabilities approximate their fair values.

5.3 Operational risk

All policies, procedures and limits are properly documented in each department within the Company and updated occasionally to take account of the changes to internal controls, procedures and limits.

5.4 Strategic risk

The Company's strategic plan is comprehensive in all aspects with particular emphasis on compliance with legal and market conditions and senior management effectively communicates the plan to all staff levels and allocates resources in line with the laid down procedures.

13. COMMITMENTS AND CONTINGENCIES

(a) Legal claim contingency

Glencore International AG (the previous majority shareholder) made a decision on 8 April 2020 to place the Mopani operations under care and maintenance in the wake of the COVID-19 situation and other persistent operational challenges. This resulted in termination of contracts with all contractors.

As a result of these terminations, three of the contractors commenced action against the Company in the International Court of Arbitration of the International Chamber of Commerce. The estimated payout is US$19 million should the actions be successful. The Directors are of the view that material losses may arise in respect of these claims at the date of these financial statements and a provision has been made.

(b) Transfer pricing case (2012 to 2017)

In October 2020, the Company received a report from the Zambia Revenue Authority (ZRA) relating to assessments for alleged transfer pricing breaches for sales between 2012 to 2017. The report highlighted additional tax to be paid by Mopani amounting to K917 million (US$50.62 million).

In November 2020, Mopani responded to ZRA and objected to the additional tax indicated in the audit report. Following this objection and discussions management had with ZRA, the amount for additional tax to be paid was reduced to K640 million (US$35.33 million).

On 7 April 2021, ZRA issued an assessment to the amount of K281 million (US$15.51 million) to which Mopani has formally objected through their tax experts. On this basis, Directors believe that no provision is required as at 31 December 2022 as the matter is currently in progress with ZRA for resolution.

16,751	6,526	120,000

The capital commitments will be funded from internally generated cash flows and borrowings from third parties as the need arises.

Impairment Reversal

MOPANI COPPER MINES PLC
NOTES TO THE HISTORICAL FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

In 2020, following challenging trading and economic conditions, disruptions in supply chains and fluctuations in copper prices due to COVID 19 pandemic, a decision was made by Glencore International AG, to place the Company operations on extended care and maintenance subject to Government approval. Accordingly, an impairment loss amounting to US$1,253 million was recognised in the financial statements. The operations specific discount rate used in the calculations was 10.5%.

On 31 March 2021, the Government of the Republic of Zambia through ZCCM-IH completed the 100% acquisition of Mopani following negotiations with Glencore. The new owners abandoned the previous decision to place Mopani operations on care and maintenance. The Company's operations under the new owners were stabilized and production volume increased in excess of care and maintenance levels as well as above budget amounts from 31 March 2021. The global economy recovered with the prices of copper and other commodities surging to record levels amid accelerating demand and lingering supply constraints. Management therefore reassessed its estimates and reversed the impairment recognised in the prior year. The total amount reversed amounted to US$ 801 million.

Restatement of financial statements/ Impairment adjustment

In 2022, ZCCM-IH, the parent company, engaged Stockbrokers Zambia (SBZ) to conduct a valuation of Mopani (the "Company") as at 31 December 2021 and 31 December 2022 respectively. The exercise was commissioned for purpose of a standard ZCCM-IH Consolidated financial statements process, to determine the equity value attributable to ZCCM-IH's stake in Mopani. The resultant valuation by SBZ amounted to a zero value of ZCCM-IH's 100% shareholding, both as at 31 December 2021 and 31 December 2022. This was deemed as an impairment indicator and management proceeded to perform an impairment assessment on Mopani.

Based on valuation analysis of Mopani by SBZ, the Discounted Cash flow (DCF) enterprise value was US$1.3 billion as at 31 December 2021 and US$976 million at 31 December 2022. Management deemed the enterprise value to represent the recoverable amount of Property, Plant and Equipment (PPE). As a result, the Company had written down the value of PPE by US$393 million as at December 2021 and US$300 million as at December 2022, to reflect the derived recoverable amounts at December 2021 and 2022 respectively.

The error has been corrected by restating each of the affected financial statement line items for the prior periods, note that the balances as at 1 January 2021 were not affected by the restatement.

Prepayments are done on goods or services and an asset under receivables is accounted for in our books. Once the goods are delivered or services rendered by the supplier, the prepayment is cleared from our books and cost recognized.

Prepayments are mostly done for long lead items and customer tailored items.

The Company applies the IFRS 9 simplified approach to measuring expected credit losses, which uses a lifetime expected loss allowance for all the trade and sundry receivables. The Company's historical credit loss experience does not show significantly different loss patterns for the various customer segments. Therefore, the grouping of trade receivables is not disaggregated into further risk profiles other than days past due. The loss rates are derived using the Company's own historical credit loss experience and are based on the payment profiles of collections over a period of 90 days. The historical loss rates are adjusted to reflect current and forward-looking information on macroeconomic factors affecting the ability of the customers to settle the receivables.

The entity writes off a trade receivable when there is information indicating that the debtor is in severe financial difficulty and there is no realistic prospect of recovery. None of the trade receivables that have been written off is subject to enforcement activities.

Fair value on Initial recognition

The Company assesses the expected period over which trade and other receivables are likely to be recovered in order to assess the impact of time value of money on the carrying value of trade and other receivables.

The Company used observable discount rates which best reflects the risk and timing profile of the underlying receivable to determine its fair value. The fair value adjustment is likely to be realized as finance income over the period over which the related receivable will be recovered.

Included in Valued Added Tax ("VAT") recoverable balance of US$188 million (2021: US$246 million) are refunds amounting to approx. US$98 million (K1,775 million) that have been withheld by the Zambia Revenue Authority ("ZRA") under the VAT rule eighteen (18) and relate to the period before February 2015.

Tax Audit assessment of output VAT amounting to US$364 million (K6.6 billion) had been raised by ZRA. The assessment covers the years 2011, 2012 and the first quarter of 2013. The basis of assessment is that the Company has not provided all the evidence that was required under the old Rule 18 of the VAT (General) Rules to prove an export and in particular the requirement to submit customs import certificates from the country of final destination. As a consequence, all sales of metal that were zero rated in the returns have been standard rated in the ZRA assessment.

In 2015, VAT Rule 18 was subsequently amended to allow exporters to submit transit documents issued by the customs authority in the country of transit of the goods instead of import certificates from the country of final destination, as proof of export for purposes of VAT zero rating. The amendment was with effect from 23

February 2015. As a result, the Company has been able to claim and receive VAT refunds claimed after 1 March 2015.

The company has however suffered exchange losses on the outstanding VAT refunds.

The Company considers that the outstanding VAT claims are fully recoverable and has classified all VAT balances due based on the expected recovery period.

A US$ 90 million (2021: US$ 98 million) loss on Zambian VAT receipts was recognised in the year ended December 31, 2022, representing the expected phasing of recoverability of the receivable amounts.

A provision for impairment has not been raised in respect of the VAT recoverable, as management believe that the amount is fully recoverable, and discussions are ongoing with Government and the tax authorities.

Rehabilitation provision represents the accrued cost required to provide adequate restoration and rehabilitation upon the completion of production activities. These amounts will be settled when rehabilitation is undertaken, generally, at the end of a project's life, which ranges in excess of twenty-five years with the majority of the costs expected to be incurred in the final year of the underlying mining operations. The assessment is done by Steffen, Robertson and Kirsten (SRK) Consultants of the United Kingdom.

21. RETIREMENT BENEFITS

(i) Defined contribution plan

A defined contribution plan is a pension plan under which the company pays fixed contributions into the fund. The company has no legal or constructive obligations to pay further contributions if the fund does not hold sufficient assets to pay all employees the benefits relating to employee service in the current and prior years.

The company's contributions to the defined contribution schemes are charged to profit or loss in the year to which they relate. The Company has no further obligation once contributions have been paid.

The total expense recognized in the profit or loss of US$4 million(2021:US$3 million) represents contributions payable to these plans by the company.

(ii) Terminal benefits

Under the terms of employment, qualifying permanent employees of the Company are entitled to terminal benefits. The terminal benefits are in nature based on the members' length of service and their salary at the earlier of retirement or death or termination from employment. The benefits are paid for by the Company.

The terminal benefits are determined using an actuarial technique to determine the ultimate cost to the company and as such typically exposes the company to actuarial risks such as: interest risk, salary risk and liquidity risk.

Interest rate risk	The liabilities are calculated using a discount rate set with reference to Zambian government bond yields. A decrease in government bonds will increase the plan liabilities.
Salary risk	The present value of the terminal benefits liability is calculated by reference to the future salaries of employees. As such, an increase in the salary of employees will increase the liability.
Liquidity risk	Terminal benefits are unfunded. There is a risk that resources might not be available when needed to pay the benefits that have become due.

The most recent actuarial valuation of the present value of terminal benefits obligation was carried out on 31 December 2022 by Quantum Consultants & Actuaries. The present value of terminal benefit obligation, and the related current service cost and past service costs were measured using the projected unit credit method.

The principal assumptions used for the purposes of the actuarial valuations were as follows:

Discount rate:	27.75%	26.0%	29.5%
Salary increase:	10.0%	11.7%	11.7%

Amounts recognized in the profit or loss and other comprehensive income in respect to defined benefits

(iv) Credit Risk Management

The company does not have a significant credit risk exposure to any single counter party or group of the counter parties with similar characteristics.

The credit risk on liquid funds is limited because counter parties are banks with high credit ratings.

27. FAIR VALUE MEASUREMENTS

The information set out below provides information about how the company determines fair values of various financial assets and financial liabilities.

Level 1 - Quoted prices (unadjusted) in active markets for identical assets or liabilities. This level includes listed equity securities and debt instruments on exchanges (for example Lusaka Securities Exchange)

Level 2 - Inputs other than quoted prices included within Level 1 that are observable for the asset or liability, either directly (that is, as prices) or indirectly.

Level 3 - Inputs for the assets or liability that are not based on observable market data when available. This level includes equity investments and debt instruments with significant unobservable components.

The hierarchy requires the use of unobservable market data when available. The company considers relevant and observable market prices in its valuations where possible.

Fair value of the company's financial assets that are measured at fair value on a recurring basis:

There were no financial assets and liabilities that are measured at fair value on a recurring basis during the year.

REPORT ON THE COMPILATION OF PRO FORMA FINANCIAL INFORMATION OF ZCCM INVESTMENTS HOLDINGS PLC (“ZCCM-IH PLC”) INCLUDED IN A PROSPECTUS

We have completed our assurance engagement to report on the compilation of pro forma financial information of ZCCM Investment Holdings Plc (“the Company”) by the directors. The pro forma financial information consists of the pro forma statement of financial position as at 31 December 2022, the pro forma income statement for the period ended 31 December 2022, the pro forma cash flow statement for the period ended 31 December 2022 and related notes as set out in this Prospectus issued by the company. The applicable criteria on the basis of which the directors have compiled the pro forma financial information are specified in Section 8 of the Lusaka Stock Exchange (LuSE) Listing rules subsection 8.15.

The pro forma financial information has been compiled by the directors to illustrate the impact of the event or transaction set out in Section D of this report on the company’s financial position as at 31 December 2022 and its financial performance and cash flows for the period ended 31 December 2022 as if the event or transaction had taken place at 31 December 2022. As part of this process, information about the company’s financial position, financial performance and cash flows has been extracted by the directors from the company’s financial statements for the period ended 31 December 2022, on which an audit report has been published.

Emphasis of matter - ZRA tax position

Without modifying our opinion, we draw to your attention that on 08 December 2023, the Zambia Revenue Authority (ZRA), responded to ZCCM-IH on various matters which included, whether there would be tax implications on the proposed transaction. It should be noted that ZRA confirmed that the transaction as presented through the transaction documents does not give rise to tax liabilities in relation to property transfer tax, income tax, value added tax and transfer pricing. ZRA further expressed a reservation of rights to change their position, if facts and actual implementation of the proposed transaction varied from the facts presented to them. As a result of the response from ZRA, no potential tax impact of the transaction has been quantified or reflected in the pro forma entries.

Directors’ responsibility for the pro forma financial information

The directors are responsible for compiling the pro forma financial information on the basis of Section 8 of the Lusaka Stock Exchange (LuSE) Listing rules.

Practitioner's responsibilities

Our responsibility is to express an opinion, as required by Section 8 of the Lusaka Stock Exchange (LuSE) Listing rules, about whether the pro forma financial information has been compiled, in all material respects, by the directors on the basis of Section 8 of the Lusaka Stock Exchange (LuSE) Listing rules.

We conducted our engagement in accordance with International Standard on Assurance Engagements (ISAE) 3420, Assurance Engagements to Report on the Compilation of Pro Forma Financial Information Included in a Prospectus, issued by the International Auditing and Assurance Standards Board. This standard requires that the practitioner complies with ethical requirements and plans and performs procedures to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the directors have compiled, in all material respects, the pro forma financial information on the basis of Section 8 of the Lusaka Stock Exchange (LuSE) Listing rules.

For purposes of this engagement, we are not responsible for updating or reissuing any reports or opinions on any historical financial information used in compiling the pro forma financial information, nor have we, in the course of this engagement, performed an audit or review of the financial information used in compiling the pro forma financial information.

The purpose of pro forma financial information included in a prospectus is solely to illustrate the impact of a significant event or transaction on unadjusted financial information of the entity as if the event had occurred or the transaction had been undertaken at an earlier date selected for purposes of the illustration. Accordingly, we do not provide any assurance that the actual outcome of the event or transaction at 31 December 2022 would have been as presented.

A reasonable assurance engagement to report on whether the pro forma financial information has been compiled, in all material respects, on the basis of the applicable criteria involves performing procedures to assess whether the applicable criteria used by the directors in the compilation of the pro forma financial information provide a reasonable basis for presenting the significant effects directly attributable to the event or transaction, and to obtain sufficient appropriate evidence about whether:

- The related pro forma adjustments give appropriate effect to those criteria; and
- The pro forma financial information reflects the proper application of those adjustments to the unadjusted financial information.

The procedures selected depend on the practitioner's judgment, having regard to the practitioner's understanding of the nature of the company, the event or transaction in respect of which the pro forma financial information has been compiled, and other relevant engagement circumstances.

The engagement also involves evaluating the overall presentation of the pro forma financial information.

We believe that the evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion.

Opinion

In our opinion, the pro forma financial information has been compiled, in all material respects, on the basis of Section 8 of the Lusaka Stock Exchange (LuSE) Listing rules.

Report on other legal or regulatory requirements

Section 8 of the Lusaka Stock Exchange (LuSE) Listing rules sets out financial information that will be required to be included in a prospectus/pre-listing statement/circular. It also sets out continuing obligations relating to matters of a financial nature. When a new applicant or existing issuer issues a prospectus, the presumption is made that, apart from compliance with the Act, such prospectus will also comply with and contain all necessary disclosures as if it were a pre-listing statement subject to compliance with the Listings Requirements. With the exception the audited financial statements for the year ended 31 December 2022 presented by the company, the requirements of the Lusaka Stock Exchange (LuSE) Listing rules have been properly kept by the company.

Consent

We have given and not withdrawn our consent to the inclusion of this report in the Circular in the form and context in which it appears.

D. PROFORMA ENTRIES

ZCCM Investments Holdings Plc (“ZCCM-IH” or “the Company”) entered into an agreement with International Resources Holding RSC Limited (“IRH”) pursuant to which IRH has committed to invest a total of US$1.1 billion into Mopani Copper Mines Plc (“MCM” or “Mopani”) as a Strategic Equity Partner (the “Transaction”), subject to the fulfilment of Conditions Precedent defined herein. Consequently, the relationship between Glencore International AG (“Glencore”) and MCM has been restructured.

Brief Particulars of the Transaction

- IRH to invest a total of US$1.1 billion into MCM to fund MCM’s Project Development Plan (“PDP”), provide working capital and restructure certain existing Glencore liabilities as set out below:
 - US$620 million will be provided in the form of new equity capital in return for a 51% stake in MCM, which will be used for MCM’s capital projects, and to stabilise the working capital position of the business;
 - US$300 million will be provided as a Shareholder Loan to MCM, that will be used to fully settle the Glencore Transaction Debt of US$1.5 billion plus interest;
 - Glencore’s existing debt will be written down to zero and its offtake agreement with MCM will be terminated;
 - The Glencore Super Senior debt of US$100 million will also be settled at Closing;
 - Further capital will be made available to MCM as shareholder loans, if required, based on the future working capital requirements of the business.
- ZCCM-IH will retain a 49% equity stake in MCM at Closing;
- The executive management of MCM will be retained and will be supplemented by industry experts from IRH with the relevant skills and expertise to complete MCM’s capital projects and turnaround its operational performance;
- A new Board of Directors, reflective of the revised shareholding structure, will be constituted;
- IRH will provide up to US$220 million in interim funding. This funding will be available to MCM prior to the Transaction Closing, to ensure that the business has sufficient liquidity until Transaction Close. The interim funding will form part of the US$620 million new equity investment.

The effect of the transaction will be to change the nature of ZCCM’s investment in Mopani from 100% subsidiary to 49% associate resulting in a change in accounting from 100% consolidation to a 49% share of net assets and profit in accordance with IAS 28 recognition. The adjustments in ZCCM are mostly to reverse the consolidation of Mopani and revise the recognition from a subsidiary to an associate. The impact of the Transaction as detailed above, is significantly reflected in Mopani Copper Mines Plc and detailed under section E of this Report.

The effects of this Transaction in the financial statements of ZCCM Investment Holdings Plc assuming the Transaction was consummated on 1 January 2022, the 2023 and 2024 forecasts would be impacted as follows:

As mentioned in the Directors' statement, in arriving at the forecast for the year ending 31 December 2024, the Directors have taken into consideration all information that could reasonably be expected to be available including, amongst others, the economic risks and uncertainties caused by the current economic volatility. We emphasise that the forecast covers a future period during which such inherent risks and uncertainties may continue to exist, and therefore, should be treated with caution. In these circumstances, the forecast may vary significantly from the amounts shown.

Actual results are likely to be different from the forecast since anticipated events frequently do not occur as expected and the variation may be material. Accordingly, we do not express any opinion as to whether the forecast will be achieved, nor can we guarantee or confirm the achievement of those results.

Subject to the matters stated in the preceding paragraphs:

- (i) Based on our examination of the evidence supporting the assumptions, nothing has come to our attention which causes us to believe that the assumptions made by the Directors, as set out in the accompanying statement, do not provide a reasonable basis for the preparation of the forecast; and
- (ii) in our opinion, the forecast, so far as the calculations are concerned, is properly prepared on the basis of the assumptions made by the Directors and is presented on a basis consistent with the accounting policies adopted and disclosed by the Company in its audited financial statements for the year ended 31 December 2022 (except for the changes in accounting policies wherever they may exist).

Emphasis of matter - ZRA tax position

Without modifying our opinion, we draw to your attention that on 08 December 2023, the Zambia Revenue Authority (ZRA), responded to ZCCM-IH on various matters which included, whether there would be tax implications on the proposed transaction. It should be noted that ZRA confirmed that the transaction as presented through the transaction documents does not give rise to tax liabilities in relation to property transfer tax, income tax, value added tax and transfer pricing. ZRA further expressed a reservation of rights to change their position, if facts and actual implementation of the proposed transaction varied from the facts presented to them. As a result of the response from ZRA, no potential tax impact of the transaction has been quantified or reflected in the pro forma entries.

Consent

We have given and not withdrawn our consent to the inclusion of this report in the Circular in the form and context in which it appears.
